

Redenhall with Harleston Town Council

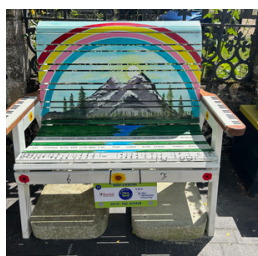

News update

14.07.2023

This week.....

This week we celebrated Local Council Clerk week and Town Clerk Clare Crane and Deputy Clerk Emma were at the marketplace on Wednesday to meet and greet and answer questions, it was great that so many people came along, this will be a regular event so look out for dates.

Please note that there is a new water fountain outside of the Leisure Centre

Lovells update

We have received the community newsletter from Lovells regarding the Briar Farm development. It is their intention to provide updates to local residents regarding forthcoming events and activities. Please see the Town Council website and social media for these updates.

Businesses and organisation please check the Visit Harleston website to ensure your business is listed

The Blossom Charity Bench arrived!

We are delighted to announce that the bench on loan from The Blossom Charity is in place outside St Johns Church on Broad Street.

The Pink Trolley charity shop located on Church Street is part of The Blossom Charity from Eye who organise the yearly arts trail, The Blossom Charity have generously allowed us to be part of their trail this year. The bench is sponsored by Rosedale Funeral Home and has been painted by Paul Rackham, sister of Anne Beckett-Allen who along with husband Simon owns Rosedale Funeral Home.

Working Parties

We have been putting out information on our facebook page with regards to the working parties: we currently have the following working parties

- Renovation of the War Memorial Gardens -
- Maintenance of the planters -
- Leisure Centre - Recreation Ground replacement of toddler play area - budget setting and planning.

Tel: 01379 854519

Have your say:

Members of the Public are invited to attend a meeting of Harleston Town Council on Wednesday 26th July 2023 at 7pm, plenty of time will be allowed during this meeting for your comments to be listened to by the Town Council on the proposed development. Comments will then be collated and forwarded to South Norfolk District Council Planning Department.

Dates for the diary:

The Harleston Festival 28th August
Free toddler play session at the Rec 28th July
The Harleston & Waveney Food Festival 23rd September
Christmas Lights 25th November

We are working together with HIP to achieve mindful town champion status, if anyone would like to attend free training please get in contact, we will let you know shortly who the wellbeing champions based in Harleston are.

harlestantowncouncil

redenhallwithharlestantowncouncil

www.harleston-tc.gov.uk